Reasons for Allowance

Claims 1 and 2 are allowed for the reason the prior art does not teach or suggest in claimed combination, "... convert means for rearranging the pixels beside a screen-line position, based on an addition result, and which rearranges and outputs an excessive value if the addition result exceeds the maximum value of one pixel."

Claims 3-5 are allowed for the reason the prior art does not teach or suggest in claimed combination, "... a pixel conversion section which receives a quantized image data signal after the pseudo gradation processing, performs pixel value conversion for the purpose of pixel modulation and outputs it as an image data signal."

Claims 6 and 7 are allowed for the reason the prior art does not teach or suggest in claimed combination, "... a third step of rearranging the pixels beside a screen-line position based on an addition result, and of rearranging and
